Bid or Buy

A NEW CONCEPT IN THE SALE OF RARE COINS DESIGNED TO BENEFIT THE COLLECTOR.

BID OR BUY enables you to purchase coins which have been accurately graded and priced at our prices, or you can simply bid for these coins at your prices. Simply stated you need not leave any money on the table as is the usual case at most mail bid auction sales. The prices listed in this offering are what we believe to be the most accurate indications of current market levels and frankly it is our belief that most items will sell at the offered price. Don't let our offered price stop you from bidding.

Sale Closes July 15, 1982

U S Half and Large Cent Pieces

The U.S. coppers represent one of the most interesting facets of coin collecting and probably the best potential for future advances. It is difficult to appreciate this series without realizing that perhaps most collectors of U.S. type coins lack most early types of the half and large cent varieties. The collection which is available as listed represents an unusual find and opportunity for both collector and investor alike.

The cream of a newly discovered hoard of silver denarii issued by "the noblest Roman of them all". . .

JULIUS CAESAR

The coins from this fantastic hoard are special for several reasons:

1. They were hand selected for quality; well centered and nicely struck.
2. They commemorate Caesar's important victory over his political opponent, Pompey.
3. They mark the historic transition between Republic and Imperial coinage.
4. And best of all, the price is only $275.00 each.

THE MAN

Julius Caesar (circa 102-44 B.C.) is one of the most famous personalities of all time. While he is perhaps best known as a statesman, his other accomplishments are no less noteworthy. As a general he is ranked in the same class as Alexander the Great, Hannibal and Napoleon; as an orator he was reckoned in his day as second only to Cicero; and as a writer he is ranked among the world's greatest masters.

THE HISTORY

In 59 B.C. Julius Caesar, Pompey and Marcus Crassus entered into the coalition known as the First Triumvirate. These ties were strengthened by the marriage of Caesar's daughter Julia to Pompey.

As governor of Gaul for nine years, Caesar subjugated the German and British tribes in a series of campaigns which, for variety and skill of tactics are unsurpassed in the annals of warfare. But Pompey was jealous of the younger Caesar's accomplishments, and upon the death of Pompey's wife/Caesar's daughter, Julia, open warfare erupted between their forces.

In 49 B.C. (the year in which these silver denarii were minted), the Roman Senate, under Pompey's influence, decreed that Caesar should disband his army. But instead, Julius Caesar went on the offensive, and within three months was master of the whole of Italy. Caesar then set out for Spain and again dispersed the armies of Pompey. A year later Pompey fled to Egypt, where he was murdered.

THE COINS

The hoard consisted entirely of silver denarii minted in 49 B.C. The quasi-imperial design refers to Caesar's important victory over Pompey's forces...an elephant (e.g. Caesar and his army) is shown trampling a serpent (e.g. opposition); The name CAESAR is below. The reverse features various priestly symbols since Caesar held the office of Pontifex Maximus (High Priest). The coins were possibly minted in Gaul, but more significantly they were found in Saragossa, Spain, which in ancient times was called Caesarea Augusta having been named after Caesar's successor. These silver denarii evidently followed the path of Caesar's triumphant armies from Gaul to Spain, and were used to pay his men who earned approximately one denarius per day.

We rejected over half of the hoard, picking only a handful of well struck and nicely centered pieces with the full name of CAESAR. The coins grade choice Very Fine to Extremely Fine by the most conservative standards. Most remarkably, some of the original 2000 year old mint luster is still evident! Our special hoard price is only $275 per Silver Denarius of Julius Caesar, with a strict limit of two coins per order.

Julius Caesar may have been viciously murdered on the Ides of March in 44 B.C., but this man who changed the course of world history lives on through his deeds, in his writings, and via his coins.

Rush me the Silver Denarii of Julius Caesar (49 B.C.), select Very Fine to Extremely Fine, as indicated:

D. Spring '82 Stamp Auction

DEAR COLLECTOR:

We are pleased to bring information regarding a most unusual release. Last year Superior Galleries released four auction catalogues in which a new concept in art and photographic production was utilized. The themes for the covers inspired some of the most unbelievable still shots incorporating rare coins and stamps which are certain to delight any collector or investor.

Especially pleasing is the clarity and sharpness of the print along with great color reproduction. And best of all is being able to enjoy these fully matted prints without the security problems inherent with the display of rare stamps and coins. Four different prints are available and ready for framing in an 11 x 14 inch size. Naturally, the descriptive information which appeared on the original catalogues has been omitted from these prints. A total of just 250 of each print has been produced and each is individually numbered.

The initial release price for this series has been set at $39.50 for each individual print. Since you have received one or more of the actual catalogues and realize that the quality inherent in these prints is exceptional, our need to supply this offering in an expensive color format is not necessary, thus, we are passing our savings on to you. Your price for this magnificent set of prints is just $24.50 each or $89.50 for the set of four.

This is a most unusual offer and we are certain you will find them to to be the perfect method of displaying rare stamps and coins. This offer includes a 10 day satisfaction guaranteed return priviledge, if not delighted, send the prints back for a full refund.

NEW PRINTING FREAK
SCOTT 1608

This is a newly discovered printing error in which "America's Light" has been shifted down until it appears to be going back into the lamp. Quite interesting and unusual. All stamps are VF.

PAPER THE WALLS WITH THIS STUFF!

It's almost cheap enough. We have immediate delivery on 100 sheets. Our representative travelled to D. C. to obtain them from the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. These sheets contain 16 $2.00 bills with stars after the serial numbers. Early issues of these sheets sale well into the 1000.00 range and here is an unusual opportunity to acquire these unfolded and flat sheets at just $65.00 per sheet. How can you go wrong, there is $32.00 in face value. Imagine having to cut one up. Don't miss out. Just 100 sheets available at $65.00 per sheet of 16 notes.

A sheet of 16 $2.00 bills — $65.00
